AUSTRALIAN
RARE
CANCER
PORTAL

DO YOU HAVE A PATIENT WITH A RARE CANCER?

The ARC Portal is an online referral service for specialists caring for individuals with a rare cancer diagnosis.

The ARC Portal team can help treating cancer specialists and their patients by facilitating:

- Specialist advice on diagnosis or management through a network of Australian and International rare cancer experts
- Identification of clinical guidelines and best available literature
- Advice on accessing and interpretation of germline and somatic molecular testing
- Access to rare cancer research and clinical trials

RARE CANCERS

Are cancers with an incidence of < 6/100,000 (e.g. Bile duct cancers, glioblastoma, sarcoma)

Rare variants of more common cancers (e.g. Adenocarcinoma of the bladder, sarcoma of the breast) can also be referred.

OUR PARTNERS

The ARC Portal is funded through the Australian Genomic Cancer Medicine Centre (AGCMC), now known as Omico and managed by BioGrid Australia
